Elba Council Upholds Suspension

Police Chief Johnston

The Elba City Council upheld the suspension of Elba Police Chief M. W. Johnston Tuesday night, three months and seven days after Mayor Robert Folsom had suspended Johnston for insubordination. During this three months there have been special council meetings, law suits and many harsh words. Tuesday night there was little discussion before the unanimous vote. The council members were told that Johnston had begun work at another job.

No action was taken on removing the "Acting" from the title of Acting Chief Max Rayborn, nor was any other person offered for the job. Members of the council discussed the situation with Rayborn, who is getting the $13,400 pay of the police chief and has the authority, but is still "acting chief".

Councilman Jimmy Wise asked Rayborn if he would consider moving to Elba from his home in Crenshaw County if selected to serve as chief. Rayborn said he couldn't afford to move, having his home there, and farming part time.

Councilman John W. Sharr-pless said, "I can't convince myself I am doing right by voting for a chief not living in Elba. You (Rayborn) know my feelings about you the fine job you are doing, but I still feel uneasy about doing this."

Rayborn said he understood and it was a decision for the council to make, but he just couldn't afford to move. George L. Collier was re-appointed to another term on the Elba Hospital Board by unanimous vote.

Mrs. Doris Taylor spoke on behalf of the Elba Library Board and asked the council for an increased salary increase for Mrs. Mary Dowling. She also asked for funds to pay six magazine subscriptions and $40 a month for new books. The council approved these but deferred any action on buying a $215 book drop, suggesting she wait until other things the city are working on are resolved.

Fire Chief Lloyd Driggers was present and asked about the policy of buying only unleaded gas for city pumps. He noted this would ruin the fire trucks. Mayor Robert Folsom agreed and noted several other city vehicles were in the same class and it would be necessary to maintain at least one tank of high octane gas. The council agreed.

Rayborn reported that fines totaling $3906.50 were collected last month. He said this was unusually high due to the heavy fines on the film-film artist. The parking meters also netted $114, according to Rayborn.

He reported that police officers Jessie Carley and Frank Thomas had both resigned and requested permission to hire Freddie Hanchey, who had been working as an auxiliary officer. Hanchey was approved.

A motion by Wise to give the cable TV people 90 days to get their equipment off the Elba poles was approved by the council. Wise noted that due to the poor service they had broken their agreement and this would leave the door open for a better company to come into Elba.

Folsom thanked Councilman Wise for his work in getting a $5,000 grant from Governor Wallace to help improve drainage on school property. According to a letter received from Governor Wallace by this newspaper, the grant of revenue sharing money was given to the state highway department for them to do the actual work. Folsom noted this was work that was long overdue.

Bids were opened on renovating the old National Guard Armory for use by the army reserve. Low bidder was Henderson, Black and Greens of Troy with a bid of $143,740. This was accepted by the council on the condition it met with approval of the Army Corp of Engineers, who will ultimately approve payment through grants or additional rent.

The council approved a budget for the current fiscal year of $801,565. Bills totaling $855.85 were approved plus a bill of $268 for the fire department. The fire department bill was for 438 "working people at fires". It included three charges for the fire at King Office Supply. Two of these were on October 31st and four on November 1st. The bill had a notation that the later charges were for rolling up hose. There was no notation on the double charging on the original fire.

The council meeting began at 7 p.m. and was over before 7:50. The next meeting will be on November 21st.

New Tower Dedicated For Scouts

A new observation tower was dedicated last Saturday, November 4, at Camp Humming Hills Girl Scout Camp, near Elba.

The tower is 30 feet tall, and was the combined efforts of materials and workmanship of Alfab, Inc. of Enterprise, and Dorsey Trailers of Elba. The plaque was donated by McKinnon Sign Company, represented by Mike McKinnon.

Present were Mr. Fred Clark, Chairman of the Camp Development Committee; Mr. Bob Sanford of Alfab; Mr. Dave Logan of Dorsey Trailers; Probate Judge James L. Sawyer; Ms. Sue Strong and Ms. Ellen Astory, Girl Scout Council representatives; Mrs. Louella Henderson, a long-time Scout supporter, coordinator, etc., and other interested citizens, as well as Scouts and Brownies.

Camp Humming Hills consists of 267 acres of beautiful rolling pine timberland, and is located five miles northeast of Elba. It was purchased from the profit of Girl Scout cookie sales.

Elba Band Rated Superior

The Elba High School "Marching Tigers" band was one of 26 bands to compete in the Enterprise Marching Contest on Saturday, November 7, and the Marching Tigers received a total of seven "superior" ratings.

At the completion of the performance the large crowd roared their approval and gave the band a standing ovation!

At the awards presentation the following ratings were given: Drum Major - 1; Color Guard - 1; Majorettes - 1 and Band - 1-1-1 for an overall 1 (or superior).

The Elba Band is under the direction of Linwood Erb and Barry Taff, and has now completed the 1978 marching season.

Martin Gets Plaque For Achievement

Doug Martin of Elba was recently honored by his associates and the management of his district when they selected him as the exceptional life insurance representative of the quarter.

They presented him with a personalized plaque acknowledging the merits of his achievement.

The selection was based not only on the sale of life insurance for the quarter but also on general attitude towards the life insurance business.

Mr. Martin represents Liberty National Life Insurance Company's Enterprise office.

Three Seasons Study Club

Bazaar

The Three Seasons Study Club will hold its annual Christmas bazaar and cake sale on Saturday, November 18 from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the Army Reserve Center (old National Guard Armory). The Study Club invites everyone to come by see their craft items. Also delicious home-made cakes will be on sale during these hours.

Mayor Proclaims Special Week

November 13 - 17 is American Education Week. During this week, parents and other interested persons are asked to devote a concentrated look not only at the problems in our schools, but also at the accomplishments and the challenges which lie ahead in education.

Locally, various activities will be highlighted throughout the week to emphasize the theme of this year's effort, "Education Can Turn Things Around." These activities include: a poster contest for the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades; special recognition of teachers during the week; a special contribution in the elementary and middle schools by the retired teachers; a Parent Involvement project in the elementary and middle schools; and a report to the PTO of the local activities for the week. All parents and other interested persons are encouraged to visit in the elementary, middle, junior, and senior high schools any time throughout the week.

American Education Week, observed since 1921, seeks to encourage local citizen support and active participation in the improvement of education. This year the program stresses the joint efforts of teachers, students, and parents to increase educational awareness in their local community. The nationwide event is sponsored by the National Education Association, the American Legion, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the U. S. Office of Education.

Nancy Morrow is chairman and Pat Clark is co-chairman of the local A.E.W. Committee. Members of the committee are JoAnne Raiser, Judith Butts, Dixie Dorsey, Dixie Deal, Linda Boyce, Pearl Ann, Elizabeth Devane, and Gloria Mosely.

Mayor Folsom signs while Elmer Taylor, Pat Clark and Nancy Morrow watch.

Where sin abounded, grace did much more abound. --- Most of us have had the experience of driving along a highway parallel to a range of mountains. As far as the eye could see were mountains, and the steep ascent as one begins to climb was endless. Later, you could look back and see that mountains must be observed in true perspective. Further in the background rose some majestic mountain peak which literally dwarfed the smaller mountain which had looked so large when you were so close.

There is a spiritual counterpart to this in the life of every Christian. As we look back over the years and paths we have travelled, there looms up before our eyes, as it were, two great mountain peaks: the mountains of sin and the mountains of God's grace.

As we look into the mountain of sin, it's always there, how I dislike and hate it. The usual procedure is for us to come to the end of the year and confess that it has been a year of many grievous sins. Yes, the ugly stain of sin may have spread far and wide, but the healing shadow of his overpowering grace has spread even further.

Martin Luther, the father of the Reformation, tells how he went to sleep one night troubled because of his sins. He began to dream, and in his dream, he saw God's recording angel listing his sins on a large board. They were so many and so grievous that he was gripped with despair, feeling that he could never be forgiven. Suddenly a pierced hand began to write above the record of his sins: "The blood of Jesus Christ, God's Son, cleanseth us from all sin." Luther said that the blood slowly trickled over the board and erased the record that had been written there. He awoke from his deep sleep with peace in his heart as he realized that the grace of Jesus Christ is sufficient. Just as in the evening hour the smaller mountain melts away in the shadow of the greater, so in the eyes of the trusting child of God, the mountains of sin are forever being swallowed up in the mountains of God's grace.

On October 11, the Circle met with 15 members and 1 visitor present. Several people were ill, and Rev. Sunday led in chain prayer. He also brought the devotional from the book of Exodus.

On October 18, the Circle met at the regular time. Mr. Sunday was in charge. Irene Wilkes opened with prayer. Mary read again from Charles Cowman's book.

There were many requests for prayer, and Helen Johnson prayed a special prayer. Everyone enjoyed the many different projects they are working with, such as crochets, quilts, macramé, all kinds of needlework and handicrafts. The ladies also enjoyed the fellowship they have with ladies from other churches.

"Even so the tongue is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, how great a matter a little fire kindleth. And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: . . . and it is set on fire of hell. But the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison." JAMES 3:5, 6, 8

Yes, the ugly stain of sin may have spread far and wide, but the healing shadow of his overpowering grace has spread even further.

Martin Luther, the father of the Reformation, tells how he went to sleep one night troubled because of his sins. He began to dream, and in his dream, he saw God's recording angel listing his sins on a large board. They were so many and so grievous that he was gripped with despair, feeling that he could never be forgiven. Suddenly a pierced hand began to write above the record of his sins: "The blood of Jesus Christ, God's Son, cleanseth us from all sin." Luther said that the blood slowly trickled over the board and erased the record that had been written there. He awoke from his deep sleep with peace in his heart as he realized that the grace of Jesus Christ is sufficient. Just as in the evening hour the smaller mountain melts away in the shadow of the greater, so in the eyes of the trusting child of God, the mountains of sin are forever being swallowed up in the mountains of God's grace.

On October 11, the Circle met with 15 members and 1 visitor present. Several people were ill, and Rev. Sunday led in chain prayer. He also brought the devotional from the book of Exodus.

On October 18, the Circle met at the regular time. Mr. Sunday was in charge. Irene Wilkes opened with prayer. Mary read again from Charles Cowman's book.

There were many requests for prayer, and Helen Johnson prayed a special prayer. Everyone enjoyed the many different projects they are working with, such as crochets, quilts, macramé, all kinds of needlework and handicrafts. The ladies also enjoyed the fellowship they have with ladies from other churches.

"Even so the tongue is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, how great a matter a little fire kindleth. And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: . . . and it is set on fire of hell. But the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison." JAMES 3:5, 6, 8

Where sin abounded, grace did much more abound. --- Most of us have had the experience of driving along a highway parallel to a range of mountains. As far as the eye could see were mountains, and the steep ascent as one begins to climb was endless. Later, you could look back and see that mountains must be observed in true perspective. Further in the background rose some majestic mountain peak which literally dwarfed the smaller mountain which had looked so large when you were so close.

There is a spiritual counterpart to this in the life of every Christian. As we look back over the years and paths we have travelled, there looms up before our eyes, as it were, two great mountain peaks: the mountains of sin and the mountains of God's grace.

As we look into the mountain of sin, it's always there, how I dislike and hate it. The usual procedure is for us to come to the end of the year and confess that it has been a year of many grievous sins. Yes, the ugly stain of sin may have spread far and wide, but the healing shadow of his overpowering grace has spread even further.

Seniors Celebrate Last Football Game

The Seniors of 79 celebrated their last football game last Friday night at home against Highland Home. The Rebels will be losing 9 tough players, and 3 hard-working cheerleaders. There was a sadness in realizing an end must come to all things. The seniors of 79 would like to say thank you to the coaches and cheerleaders. Good luck, Seniors!!!!!!

Halloween Carnival Is Big Success

Mrs. Joyce Flowers and Mrs. Shirley Goodson.

The Halloween Carnival at Zion Chapel High School was again successful. The PTO due to the efforts of many parents, teachers, students, and community residents as well as surrounding residents and merchants.

There are two special people who should be especially thanked though for their untiring efforts. Hardly a day passed for the last month that they were not at school and in the community working for the success of the carnival. So, here's Zion Chapel School's big thanks to two wonderful ladies—Mrs. Joyce Flowers and Mrs. Shirley Goodson.

Happiness Is...

- ...Winning the spirit stick.
- ...Helping raise all that racket at the pep rallies.
- ...Watching your favorite football player make a touchdown.
- ...Getting a cold drink out of the machine.
- ...Cuddling up to your teddy bear at night.
- ...Hamburgers on Friday.
- ...Having a locker next to a cute guy or girl.
- ...Listening to your favorite song on your favorite radio station.
- ...Being a Senior.
- ...Passing one of Mrs. Lowery's tests.
- ...Opening one of Mrs. Powell's test and finding candy.
- ...Colliding with your favorite teacher in the hall.
- ...Getting Senior portraits back with nothing wrong with them.
- ...Typing 60 words a minute.
- ...Playing powder puff football.

NEWS from your PHARMACIST
By
Kris Scarborough

Did you know that women are more likely to have gallstones than men? Medical research has proven that more females develop gallstones than males. And, gallstones are more common in women who have borne children. Most inflammations of the gallbladder are caused by these little stones.

Medical researchers are still trying to find the exact cause for gallstones. It is not unusual for persons to have gallstones and not be aware of the fact. But gallstones usually eventually cause an inflammation of the gallbladder and are discovered through a medical examination.

Tommy Cooper, a student in the Drafting and Design Department of Douglas MacArthur State Technical College is a graduate of Elba High School.

Students in the Drafting and Design Department at Douglas MacArthur State Technical College look over one of the projects being worked on during the shop practice of the drafting course.

Our Challenge
There is a lesson to be learned in this dry weather we are having. First, there is just virtually nothing that we can do to control the weather. Secondly, because of this lack of control we need to be in total control of those things that we can control. For example, we can have total control of soil fertility on our lawns, gardens, pastures, and crop land. Are you taking care of this basic job?

HELP FOR YOU
With food prices increasing some and likely to increase more, more people are interested in gardening. We had some beautiful gardens in Coffee County this year in Enterprise, Elba, New Brockton, Kinston and in the county. Folks who have plenty of land in the rural areas have had an abundance of vegetables in the spring and summer. Of course, everything has dried up in recent weeks.

Do you want to have a better garden in 1979? Do you want to have a better variety of vegetables which your family will enjoy? You would like to get information on gardening, call us at 894-5596. We will send you everything you need to plan a successful garden. Spread the word of a successful gardener, Bill Barabara of New Brockton has three or four stalks of stalked tomatoes. Of course, he has watered them during this dry weather, but he has made an enormous amount of tomatoes on just three or four stalked stalks. I told him the other day that he needed to be on our staff to work with gardeners all over the county.

Significant
Did you know that pecan trees need to have a soil pH of between 6.0 and 6.5 to make the best yield? It may be the reason why some of our pecans are not producing properly. Low pH definitely limits yields.

Incidentally, did you know that a soil with a pH of 5.0 is 10 times more acid than a soil with a pH of 6.0? A soil with a pH of 5.0 is 100 times as acid as a soil with a pH of 7.0. Keeping the pH up is probably the No. 1 weakness we have in crop and fruit production in Coffee County.

Grazing Tips
Cibola McCormick of New Brockton has his ryegrass and clover all ready to seed his pastures just as soon as he gets some rain. In fact, he has bought a new seed-soiler so that he can do a good job of putting seed and fertilizer in the ground.

It reminded him that if his Bahis and Coastal grass pastures are not grazed down closely to be sure that they are bunched down. Too much competition will cause a failure in seed seedling plants. Cattleman like McCormick important to achieve that goal. In the Alabama Water Quality Plan, Coffee County was selected as a priority area to correct erosion problems and reduce sediment. Coffee Countians who own or use land will be affected in future years by regulations designed to control runoff. This plan calls for voluntary application of management practices by individual landowners and users similar to conservation measures applied in the past. If you have any questions about this plan you will be allowed the opportunity to ask questions at the hearing.

NEW MEMBER
Brenda Allen, a recent graduate in agriculture from Tuskegee Institute, joined our staff Wednesday. Miss Allen will be working in all phases of agricultural education in the county.

Miss Allen has both a BS degree and an MS degree in agriculture and made an excellent record at Tuskegee Institute. She is a native of Macon County.

She will be especially helpful in working with gardeners and commercial vegetable producers. Call her at 894-5596.

COFFEE CONSERVATION

PUBLIC MEETING
Coffee County Soil and Water Conservation District would like to invite public review and comment to the Agricultural Runoff Management Plan as called for under Section 208 of the Clean Water Act of 1977. The hearing will be held at Bayley's Restaurant on November 16, 1978 at 7:00 p.m. in Enterprise, Alabama.

The Clean Water Act was passed by Congress with the expectation of cleaning up America's streams and rivers by 1985. Since erosion from cropland creates one of the largest polluters of our streams, this plan is very important to achieve that goal. In the Alabama Water Quality Plan, Coffee County was selected as a priority area to correct erosion problems and reduce sediment. Coffee Countians who own or use land will be affected in future years by regulations designed to control runoff. This plan calls for voluntary application of management practices by individual landowners and users similar to conservation measures applied in the past. If you have any questions about this plan you will be allowed the opportunity to ask questions at the hearing.

COFFEE CONSERVATION

PUBLIC MEETING
Coffee County Soil and Water Conservation District would like to invite public review and comment to the Agricultural Runoff Management Plan as called for under Section 208 of the Clean Water Act of 1977. The hearing will be held at Bayley's Restaurant on November 16, 1978 at 7:00 p.m. in Enterprise, Alabama.

The Clean Water Act was passed by Congress with the expectation of cleaning up America's streams and rivers by 1985. Since erosion from cropland creates one of the largest polluters of our streams, this plan is very important to achieve that goal. In the Alabama Water Quality Plan, Coffee County was selected as a priority area to correct erosion problems and reduce sediment. Coffee Countians who own or use land will be affected in future years by regulations designed to control runoff. This plan calls for voluntary application of management practices by individual landowners and users similar to conservation measures applied in the past. If you have any questions about this plan you will be allowed the opportunity to ask questions at the hearing.

Our Challenge
There is a lesson to be learned in this dry weather we are having. First, there is just virtually nothing that we can do to control the weather. Secondly, because of this lack of control we need to be in total control of those things that we can control. For example, we can have total control of soil fertility on our lawns, gardens, pastures, and crop land. Are you taking care of this basic job?

HELP FOR YOU
With food prices increasing some and likely to increase more, more people are interested in gardening. We had some beautiful gardens in Coffee County this year in Enterprise, Elba, New Brockton, Kinston and in the county. Folks who have plenty of land in the rural areas have had an abundance of vegetables in the spring and summer. Of course, everything has dried up in recent weeks.

Do you want to have a better garden in 1979? Do you want to have a better variety of vegetables which your family will enjoy? You would like to get information on gardening, call us at 894-5596. We will send you everything you need to plan a successful garden. Spread the word of a successful gardener, Bill Barabara of New Brockton has three or four stalks of stalked tomatoes. Of course, he has watered them during this dry weather, but he has made an enormous amount of tomatoes on just three or four stalked stalks. I told him the other day that he needed to be on our staff to work with gardeners all over the county.

Significant
Did you know that pecan trees need to have a soil pH of between 6.0 and 6.5 to make the best yield? It may be the reason why some of our pecans are not producing properly. Low pH definitely limits yields.

Incidentally, did you know that a soil with a pH of 5.0 is 10 times more acid than a soil with a pH of 6.0? A soil with a pH of 5.0 is 100 times as acid as a soil with a pH of 7.0. Keeping the pH up is probably the No. 1 weakness we have in crop and fruit production in Coffee County.

Grazing Tips
Cibola McCormick of New Brockton has his ryegrass and clover all ready to seed his pastures just as soon as he gets some rain. In fact, he has bought a new seed-soiler so that he can do a good job of putting seed and fertilizer in the ground.

It reminded him that if his Bahis and Coastal grass pastures are not grazed down closely to be sure that they are bunched down. Too much competition will cause a failure in seed seedling plants. Cattleman like McCormick

NEW MEMBER
Brenda Allen, a recent graduate in agriculture from Tuskegee Institute, joined our staff Wednesday. Miss Allen will be working in all phases of agricultural education in the county.

Looking back to the Elba-Andalusia game, there are a few things I'd like to say before closing the book on the big win:

Contrary to popular belief, Andalusia's Coach Don Sharpe is human. Coach Sharpe was very gracious following his team's first 1-58 games and showed real class by coming in the Elba dressing room after the game and personally congratulating each coach. Coach Sharpe made no excuses and proved to be a true gentleman. His post game gesture showed the class coach he is and earned my respect.

Brant Locklier, the sports editor of the ANDALUSIA-STAR NEWS wrote an excellent article about the game and also made no excuses. A team doesn't have to make excuses after losing only once in 59 games! Brant did report that Andalusia had several key penalties, but he did not question the calls. Brant is an excellent sports writer, and he has done a fine job of covering Andalusia football for many years.

THE OPP NEWS has an excellent paper, as is evident by the countless awards it has won. However, the paper's article on the Andalusia-Elba was the most one-sided, totally biased job of reporting I've ever read. The article made a point of questioning every call against Andalusia and made excuses for every Andalusia mistake. The writer even stated that on Mike Harrold's interception return on the referees intentionally pushed down an Andalusia player to keep him from making a tackle. That's stupid! Reporting news is an art, but making up news is trash!

The Zion Chapel Rebels ended their season with an 8-2 record and are without a doubt one of the best Class A teams in the state. The Rebels, under Coach David Collins, missed a state playoff berth by three points and proved their class by winning their final games without a loss. Congratulations, Rebels, on a great season.

New Brockton lost to Samson to end the year at 4-6, and the Gamecocks deserve a pat on the back for their hard work. The Brockton team was small, but played well all year and battled every opponent right down to the wire. Kinston suffered through a 2-6 campaign, but the Bulldogs were young and gained experience. If the Kinston squad can continue to improve, they could be hard to beat in the coming years.

The old basketball has started bouncing at Elba High and the Tiger rounders are working hard. New Coach Jerry Kirkland is a firm believer in excellent defense and fast breaking offense and could bring an exciting brand of basketball to Tiger Country!

The prep football playoffs start this week, and I think south Alabama has a good chance to sweep all four crowns in 4A. He Jeff Davis, in 3A, its Opp or Eufaula, in 2A its Eclectic and in 1A its either Sweet Water or J. U. Black-sher.

Yo ole Polish Prognosticator will venture to pick the winners in the playoffs after a not so good year of predicting. Here goes.....

BRANTLEY VS. WICKSBURG
The Bulldogs are small in number and small in size, but they've got a lot of heart. These two teams tied in their first match up, but this time Brantley will slip past! Brantley 18.....Wicksburg 15

OPP VS. EUPAULA
Coach Griffith's Bobcats are big and strong, but Eufaula has beaten four 4A teams already this year. I'm going with Eufaula in the title toss-up! Eufaula 28.....Opp 26

OTHER PICKS:
Sweet Water 14.....Blacksher 12
Reckton 27.....Arton 20
Slocomb 21.....Georgiana 7
T. R. Miller 10.....Robertdale 8
Lanier 2.....Murphy 10
Jeff Davis 17.....West End 7
Eclectic 23.....Handley 16
Demopolis 19.....Chilton County 6

Boat Certificates Will Arrive
By Nov. 15

Marine Police Division officials said Friday they had received many inquiries from boat owners asking why they had not received their 1978 boat registration certificate.

Marine Police Director William B. Garner said all applications received by the Division are now being processed and the new 1979 registration certificates for boats are expected to be mailed during the week beginning Nov. 6 and these certificates should be in the hands of boat owners before the grace period for registration ends on Nov. 15.

Garner said boat owners should not be concerned and should not phone or write the Montgomery headquarters of the Marine-Police Division unless they fail to receive their boat registration papers by Nov. 15.

All registration certification certificates for boats in which there are no errors or discrepancies will be mailed beginning the week of Nov. 6 and those with errors should be in the hands of boat owners before the grace period for registration ends on Nov. 15.

In DeKalb County in northeast Alabama, stalk hunting only will be legal from November 17 through December 18. Both stalk and dog hunting of deer will be legal from December 19 through
